

About Us

For more than ten years now, the team Schluckspecht of the University of Applied Sciences Offenburg successfully participates in the Shell Eco-Marathon.

In 2008, the department of Media and Information Technology joined the marathon with a student project, streaming the event live from Nogaro via internet.

The relaunch of the homepage in 2009 presents a modern and attractive platform for multimedia concerning the Shell Eco-marathon as well as general information.
